CHAPTER 1- Instructions To Consultants (ITC)

1. Background

- 1.1 The centrality of China to India's supply chain in certain industries raises dependency and vulnerability of the Indian supply chains and production networks particularly during crisis situations such as the COVID-19 and geo-political conflicts.
- 1.2 Considering the above, it is felt desirable to develop a comprehensive action plan to bridge the trade deficit over time and align trading strategies with emerging geopolitical situation and potential risks to safeguard supply chains. The detailed scope of work is given in the Terms of Reference below.

2. Terms of Reference

2.1. The consultant is expected to -

1. Analyse the trends in India-China trade (at product category level) over the recent years to discern patterns of trade dependency and underlying reasons for the same.
2. Analyse the supply chains of India-China trade and also comparable supply chains of India's trade with other Asian countries to de-risk India's trade.
3. Examine product categories where India has comparative advantage and a sizeable market in China to scale up exports to China.
4. Analyse goods and services with potential for increased exports from India, particularly in the context of the global value chains where India has demonstrable market leadership elsewhere.
5. Identify strategies for India to de-risk and leverage opportunities among global supply chains.
6. Examine tariff, non-tariff barriers, regulatory ecosystem and market access concerns in China.
7. Examine the global trade flows to recommend how India may diversify its imports to other trading partners in specific product categories.
8. Recommend key policies to boost domestic production and productivity in sectors comparable to the global economy not only to reduce the trade deficit with China, but also to capitalise on global supply chain shifts. Analyse the type and quantum of foreign investment which may bridge the technology gap and utilize the abundant domestic manpower for competitive products. Provide recommendations to resolve the same.
9. Measures to enable India to diversify supply chains to India. What are the sectors to focus, incentives to offer and reforms required to achieve the objective of attracting global supply chains from to India.
10. An analysis of the tools available to counter the trade deficit with China, including the potential for Indian producers to enter value chains of China's key global importables, both in the goods and services sectors.

3. Bidding process

3.1. Single stage Bid

This RFP is through a single stage two bid system- (simultaneous receipt of separate technical and financial bids) issued to undertake the Study on “India-China Trade: How to bridge the trade deficit” as per the scope listed under the Terms of Reference.

3.2. Details of selection process

3.2.1. The Consultant (shall also mean Bidder) will be selected through the Quality and Cost Based (QCBS) selection method with 70% weightage to the technical proposal and 30% weightage to the financial proposal.

3.2.2. Quality and Cost-Based Selection (QCBS): In the case of QCBS, the total score is calculated by weighting the technical and financial scores and adding them to obtain a combined QCBS (Technical cum Financial) score. The proposal obtaining the highest total combined score in evaluating quality and cost will be ranked as H-1, followed by the proposals securing lesser marks as H-2, H-3 etc. The proposal securing the highest combined marks and ranked H-1 will be awarded the Contract. If two or more bids have the same highest score in the final ranking, the bid with a higher technical score will be H-1.

3.2.3. The Technical Proposals are given an absolute technical score (Ta out of max 100) based on the evaluation criteria in Section/Clause: Evaluation/ Scoring Criteria. However, to normalise this w.r.t. Financial Score Sf below, a relative Technical Score (St) based on their relative ranking shall be calculated. The highest evaluated Technical Score (Ta-max) is assigned the maximum relative Technical Score (St) of 100 (Hundred). The formula for determining the relative Technical scores (St) of all other Proposals is as follows:

$$St = 100 \times Ta / Ta\text{-max},$$

in which "Ta-max" is the highest evaluated absolute Technical Score, "St" is the relative Technical score calculated, and "Ta" is the absolute Technical Score of the proposal under consideration. This normalisation would avoid any unintended magnification of weightage to the Financial score due to different scales of Technical Scores and Financial Scores.

3.2.4. The Financial Proposals are given a cost-score based on the relative ranking of prices, with the lowest evaluated Financial Proposal (Fm) being assigned the maximum financial score (Sf) of 100(Hundred). The formula for determining the financial scores (Sf) of all other Proposals is as follows:

$$Sf = 100 \times Fm / F,$$

in which "Fm" is the price of the lowest offer, "Sf" is the financial score calculated, and "F" is the price of the proposal under consideration.

3.2.5. The weights given to the Technical (T) and Financial (P) Proposals are specified in

Clause 3.2.1

3.2.6. Proposals would be ranked according to their combined QCBS (weighted technical, St and financial, Sf) scores as follows:

$$S = (St \times T + Sf \times P)/100.$$

in which "S" is the combined QCBS score, T (the weight given to the Technical Proposal) in %, and P (the weight given to the Financial Proposal) in % (with T + P = 100%).

3.2.7. All scores shall be calculated up to two decimal places only.

3.2.8. If two or more bids have the same highest score in the final ranking, the bid with a higher technical score will be considered as H-1.

4. Technical Proposal

4.1. The technical proposal should be submitted in the Form 2A. While preparing the technical proposal (the "Technical Proposal"), Consultant is expected to take into account the various requirements and conditions stipulated in this RFP document. The technical proposal should contain a writeup explaining the bidders understanding of the requirements, the proposed methodology and the names of the Principal Investigator.

4.2. The Technical Proposal shall not include any financial information relating to the Financial Proposal.

4.3. Technical Evaluation/ Scoring Criteria

4.3.1. Criteria, sub-criteria, and point system for scoring the points for Technical Proposal (St):
